THANKS

Many people have contributed in a variety of ways in the preparation of this book.

At Cambridge University Press I would like to thank Alison Sharpe, Barbara Thomas and Geraldine Mark, all of whom have brought their professionalism and expertise to guiding and shaping the book in its various stages. My special thanks are due to Jeanne McCarten, not only for comments on early drafts, but for her constant support and encouragement.

Thanks also to Peter Ducker for the design, and to Peter Elliot and Amanda MacPhail for the illustrations.

For providing a stimulating working environment, I would like to thank former colleagues at the Learning Assistance Centre, University of Sydney, where the writing began in earnest, and present colleagues at the English for International Students Unit, the University of Birmingham, where the project was completed.

Many of my students at the University of Birmingham have worked on versions of the material and I wish to thank in particular students on the Japanese Secondary School Teachers' course between 1995 and 1998 who carefully and constructively evaluated sections of the work. I would also like to thank the students and staff at the institutions all over the world where the material was piloted.

Gerry Abbot, Annie Broadhead, David Crystal, Hugh Leburn, Laura Matthews, Michael McCarthy, Stuart Redman and Anna Sikorzyńska made extensive comments on the manuscript. I hope I have been able to reflect their many valuable suggestions in the finished book.

At home, Ann, Suzanne and David have all had a part to play in giving me time to write the book, motivation, and examples.
