PUBLISHER'S NOTE

Dear Friends,

Greetings from the desk of Hind Publications.

A journey of thousands miles begin with a single step. We had taken the first step in the year 2011 by releasing the first edition of "Poultry People" to lay a foundation for strong database for the Indian poultry industry.

Then in the year 2014, we had published the second edition of the book which was named as "Indian Poultry Directory". Now we are pleased to publish the third revised and enlarged edition of the directory in which we have included the new data, besides the data already included in our first and second edition are also revised.

As we all know, that the people from our industry keep on moving, as also in the age of free economy, companies are also looking for organizational changes with mergers and amalgamations for better performances. Therefore we have also provided a separate format, again at the end of data entries for the corrections, addition and deletions. The suggested changes will also be incorporated in our next edition.

We also welcome the entries of the people and companies from the poultry industry to be included in our next edition for which the format is given at the end of the data entries.

Looking forward for your valued support, feed back and suggestions.
